

Give 'em the feel of kiwi!

If your people work on their feet all day, they'll appreciate the comfort and support of the quality range of custom-made knitwear from the Kiwi Sock Company.

And because you think on your feet all day, you're going to appreciate the brand exposure that you can get by having your logo or corporate identity actually knitted in.

Sure, you could do the standard corporate branded apparel with embroidered, patched or screenprinted logos. But why not stand out from the crowd with a range of New Zealand made products that have quality knitted in - along with your logo.
